From Farm to Child Care - Stephanie Ponticas

MUST ATTEND BOTH CLASSES

10:15am-12:15pm - VII.C/Level 1/CDA I
Hands-on training for child care providers on how to source local foods, prepare quick, healthy, and safe meals and snacks for children, and understand the importance of purchasing local foods and offering fruits and vegetables. Training includes hands-on food preparation training.

3 Essential Skills - Samantha Moe

1:00pm-3:00pm Not a Develop Class so NO KCF or CDA this class will count for 2 hours of training
Do you struggle to get parents on board with positive behavior techniques? It's easy for professionals in the family services industry to suffer from burnout and exhaustion because much of their hard work with children is undone at home. To make a lasting difference in the lives of the families you work with it is essential to have proper training on how to work with parents in a way that motivates them to make positive changes. During this interactive workshop, professionals will discover effective tools, rooted in neuroscience, to calm challenging behavior and communication techniques to get parents on board.

CLASSES

Feed Yourself First: How to Manage Your Money and Save for Your Retirement - Tom Copeland

8:00am-10:00am - IV.C/Level 1/CDA V

This is a two-hour training to help family child care providers, child care center workers, and staff from Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies better manage their money and plan for retirement.

or

Raising Empowered Children - Deb Colling

8:00am-10:00am - II.C/Level 1/CDA III

Children require several skills in order to cultivate a sense of confidence and self-esteem. We will discuss strategies you can add to your tool box that will foster accountability, respect, and relationship-building in children of all ages and how these skills affect the atmosphere in your classroom or home. You will understand how mastery of these skills generates self-advocacy and more positive behaviors and rewards, thus empowering each child so gifted by his caregivers or parents.
